Letter from the Board Chair to the Minister Responsible and Accountability Statement

January 31, 2010

The Honourable Michael de Jong, QC
Attorney General and Government House Leader
Province of British Columbia

Dear Mr. Attorney:

On behalf of the board of directors and employees of the Legal Services Society (LSS), I am pleased to present our service plan for 2010/2011 – 2012/2013.

To fulfill its mandate, the Legal Services Society offers legal representation for financially eligible people with serious family, child protection, criminal, or immigration problems, as well as information and advice services designed to help people resolve legal problems on their own. These programs help achieve early and lasting solutions for people with low incomes, greater efficiency for the justice system, and prudent management of public funds.

Surveys show legal aid inspires public confidence and perceived fairness in the justice system. The Legal Services Society is a recognized leader in the provision of well-managed, outcomes-based legal aid. But one key issue remains—the need for sufficient and stable funding. The recent economic turbulence—and its impact on both the number of people needing legal aid and on the Legal Services Society’s interest-based revenues—underscores the importance of the society’s commitment to collaboration with our stakeholders and funders. Through ongoing dialogue, plans for sustainable funding can be developed to ensure the society’s continued success in delivering innovative and cost-effective legal aid.

The society’s key challenges are largely driven by external factors such as the economy, the number of people charged with criminal offences, family break up, immigration policies, the number of children placed in government care, and the revenue available to the society.

While the Legal Services Society remains committed to its goals, these challenges obliged the board to revisit its strategic priorities in 2009/2010 to ensure the society is best positioned to address these external pressures. The result was three significant initiatives.

The first was to significantly reduce the society’s groundbreaking work on integrated services and to focus on core services in family, criminal, child protection, and immigration law. The board continues to believe an integrated approach to legal aid (i.e., addressing a client’s legal problems along with any contributing non-legal problems such as homelessness, poverty, or addiction) better serves people with low incomes, the justice system, and the people of BC as a whole. However, this approach to legal aid is not sustainable given our current levels of funding.

The second was a new service delivery model that reduces infrastructure costs in order to maximize the funding available for core services. This led to a 40 percent workforce reduction, the replacement of five offices with an alternative service delivery model, the elimination of civil law services and the LawLINE telephone advice service, and withdrawal of most services from the Nanaimo Justice Access Centre. These changes will have a significant impact on the society and its staff, but were needed to sustain and improve the broad range of information, advice, and representation services the society offers to individual British Columbians.

The third was to embark upon a process to simplify the LSS tariff system by consolidating almost 200 tariff items into a smaller number of billing categories. This will provide greater cost certainty for the society, easily understood retainer parameters for clients, and a streamlined billing process for lawyers.

The initial stages of these initiatives began late in 2009/2010 and their implementation and assessment will be the society's primary focus in 2010/2011 to ensure the anticipated benefits are realized.

The past year also saw significant praise for one of the Legal Services Society's most successful cost-containment initiatives—its large case management program. The Report of the Review of Large and Complex Criminal Case Procedure, written by the Honourable Patrick LeSage, QC, and the Honourable Mr. Justice Michael Code for the Ontario government, recommended that Ontario adopt several of the society's procedures and policies to address the problems associated with the ever-increasing cost and complexity of large criminal cases.

This is my final year on the society's board and I would be remiss if I did not recognize all the board members I have served with over the past six years, as well as the society's skilled and dedicated staff for their tremendous commitment to improving the lives of those less fortunate.

Statement of accountability

The Legal Services Society Service Plan 2010/2011 – 2012/2013 was prepared under the board's direction in accordance with the Budget Transparency and Accountability Act and the BC Reporting Principles. The plan is consistent with the BC government's strategic priorities and Fiscal Plan. The board is accountable for the contents of the plan, including the selection of performance measures and targets.

All significant assumptions, policy decisions, and identified risks, as of January 31, 2010, have been considered in preparing the plan. The performance measures presented are consistent with the society's mandate and goals, and focus on aspects critical to the society's performance. The performance targets in this plan were determined based on an assessment of the society's budget, operating environment, forecast conditions, risk assessment, and past performance.

Yours truly,

D. Mayland McKimm, QC
Chair, LSS Board of Directors

Organization Overview

The Legal Services Society (LSS) provides legal aid in British Columbia. Created by the Legal Services Society Act in 1979, LSS is a non-profit organization that remains independent of government. Our priority is to serve the interests of people with low incomes.

Our core services

Core legal aid services include legal information, advice, and representation.

- Legal information: The society's legal information services are delivered by front line staff and local agents, and through publications and websites. Other information services include training and support for community advocates who work with LSS clients. LSS also collaborates with community and government agencies to ensure people with low incomes have access to the other services they need to solve their legal issues.
- Legal advice: LSS offers legal advice through criminal, family, and immigration duty counsel in courthouses across BC, and through the Brydges Line telephone service for people who have been or may be arrested. LSS also provides family advice lawyers at various locations. LSS advice services can be subject to a financial eligibility test.
- Legal representation: LSS provides legal representation for financially eligible people with serious family law, child protection, or criminal law problems. Legal representation is also available for people who face a refugee or deportation hearing, a Mental Health Review Panel or BC Review Board hearing, or who have a prison issue for which the Charter of Rights and Freedoms establishes a right to counsel.

Our service delivery model

The society works closely with our partners in the justice system—lawyers, advocates, community and government agencies—to best address the legal needs of our clients. Legal aid intake services are delivered in person at legal aid offices across the province and over the phone through the toll-free LSS Call Centre. Lawyers who accept LSS referrals provide most of the legal representation services. LSS also contracts with lawyers and other service partners to provide additional services, such as Brydges Line. In 2010/2011, LSS will transition from a regional centre to a primarily local agent service delivery model to sustain community-based in-person services while reducing infrastructure costs.

The society works to ensure that legal aid services are accessible to all communities. For example, LSS provides the call centre for people who cannot apply for legal aid in person, as well as interpreters for call centre clients as needed. We also pay for interpreters for clients working with legal aid lawyers and produce legal information publications in a variety of languages.

For more information about legal aid services and eligibility criteria, visit the LSS website at www.lss.bc.ca. For a detailed profile of LSS, see "Legal aid facts" on the website under "Media."

Our clients

LSS provides legal aid services to the province's most poor, vulnerable, and marginalized citizens. Our clients do not have the financial resources—or frequently the educational, social, or health resources—to effectively access the justice system when their families, freedom, or safety are at risk. We strive to engage our clients in finding solutions to their legal problems. By taking an integrated approach, legal aid services can help clients prevent future legal issues and increase their ability to positively contribute to society.

LSS mandate

Under section 9 of the current LSS Act, the society's mandate is to:

- help people solve their legal problems and to facilitate access to justice,
- establish and administer an effective and efficient system for providing legal aid to people in BC, and
- provide advice to the Attorney General about legal aid and access to justice for people in BC.

Section 9 also states that the society is to:

- give priority to identifying and assessing the legal needs of people with low incomes in BC,
- consider the perspectives of both justice system service providers and the general public,
- coordinate legal aid with other aspects of the justice system and community services, and
- be flexible and innovative in carrying out its mandate.

Section 11(4) of the act limits the amount of legal aid the society can provide to any client to “the extent of legal or other services that a reasonable person of modest means would use to resolve the problem.”

Governance

The society is governed by a nine-member board of directors. Under its bylaws, the board's role is “to ensure the effective governance of the society through setting direction, monitoring performance, and hiring and supporting the executive director.”

LSS is committed to strong corporate governance practices that enable public accountability and transparency. The society adheres to the governance principles established by the Board Resourcing and Development Office (BRDO) and is in full compliance with BRDO guidelines. To maintain excellence in board governance, LSS reviews its governance framework regularly to ensure it meets the society's ongoing business needs while being consistent with recognized best practices.

Board of directors

The governance framework of the board consists of policies and bylaws that reflect established governance best practices.

Of the nine board members:

- five are appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council on the recommendation of the Attorney General, and
- four are appointed by the Law Society of BC after consultation with the executive of the BC Branch of the Canadian Bar Association.

The LSS Act outlines the need for the board as a whole to have a range of knowledge, skills, and experience in such areas as:

- business management and the financial affairs of public and private sector organizations;
- law and the operation of courts, tribunals, and alternative dispute resolution processes;
- the provision of legal aid;
- BC’s cultural and geographic diversity; and
- the social and economic circumstances associated with the special legal needs of people with low incomes.

At their first meeting in each fiscal year, the directors of the board elect a board chair and an Executive Committee. Headed by the board chair and consisting of at least two other board directors, the Executive Committee holds all the powers of the board between meetings, except the power to fill vacancies on or alter the membership of board committees and specific powers excluded by resolution of the board.

The board also establishes two board committees to help it carry out its responsibilities:

- the Finance Committee, which makes recommendations on the society’s finances, funding, and fiscal allocations; and
- the Stakeholder Engagement Committee, which recommends ways to strengthen the society’s relationships with key stakeholders in the justice system.

The chair, in consultation with the society’s executive director, appoints the committee members, unless the board directs otherwise. For more information about the LSS board and its governance practices, visit the society’s website at www.lss.bc.ca and see “Who we are” under “About us.”

Senior management

The board of directors appoints an executive director to administer the business of the society. The executive director chairs the society's Executive Management Committee (EMC), which is made up of the directors of the four internal LSS divisions. EMC provides LSS with overall strategic direction, policy, and planning.

EMC also makes final decisions on strategic and operational issues brought forward by the Operations, Planning, and Policy Committee. This management committee advises EMC on interdivisional policy and planning, strategic and service planning, management initiatives, operational support issues, and policies for coverage, eligibility, and tariffs.

Strategic Context

Like all organizations in a global economic downturn, the Legal Services Society is facing continued uncertainty regarding revenue and demand for services in the coming years. The LSS Service Plan 2010/2011 – 2012/2013 outlines our strategies for maintaining legal aid services for those most in need in these uncertain times. The key strategic issues identified by LSS for the planning period are described on pages 7–9.

Since 2002, LSS has developed an innovative and collaborative service delivery model that ensures people with low incomes in BC have access to needed legal aid services under the society's mandate and fiscal structure. Legal aid renewal was introduced in 2008 to guide our efforts to provide legal aid services that help clients achieve timely and lasting solutions to their legal problems. It was designed to encourage clients' participation in finding solutions and to integrate legal aid with services that help clients address the social, financial, and health issues that arise from or trigger legal problems. Legal aid renewal aligns closely with the Ministry of Attorney General's justice reform initiatives. While the fiscal pressures confronted by the society and our partner agencies will slow or limit implementation, LSS will continue to prioritize working collaboratively with the Ministry of Attorney General and other partners on projects that help advance our legal aid renewal goals.

To respond to current fiscal challenges, LSS is again reviewing how it delivers legal aid services. Simplification of our tariff and a shift from a regional centre-based to a local agent-based delivery model will be at the heart of changes anticipated for 2010/2011 – 2012/2013. Reducing infrastructure and administrative costs will promote greater flexibility, accountability, and cost certainty. It will also ensure LSS has the resources to sustain our ability to provide innovative and collaborative legal aid services that enable people with low incomes to effectively address their issues within the justice system.

Capacity

LSS continues to enhance the strategic and operational processes that enable the society to undertake the strategies laid out in this plan, as well as to respond effectively to our changing environment. In the longer term, simplification should ease capacity pressures by reducing administrative costs and increasing flexibility to address fiscal challenges. However, the transition to a new model will increase demand on capacity at a time when staffing levels have been reduced. LSS anticipates capacity challenges during the transition period.

Vision, mission, values

Our vision, mission, and values statements guide our work as we continue legal aid renewal.

LSS vision

Our vision is a British Columbia where all people are able to find timely and lasting solutions to their legal issues.

LSS mission

Our mission is to provide innovative and collaborative legal aid services that enable people with low incomes to effectively address their issues within the justice system.

LSS values

Making a positive difference: We work with clients to help them find solutions to their legal issues and prevent future issues. We strive to ensure people with low incomes get equal access to and the intended benefits from the law.

Leadership: We seek to understand our clients' needs and collaborate with our community and justice system partners to develop innovative services to respond to those needs. We strive to ensure that all staff understand the society's vision and values, and support each other to achieve our mission.

Respect: We recognize diverse cultures, needs, and perspectives. We act with compassion, tolerance, and integrity in our relationships with our clients, community and justice system partners, and co-workers.

Service excellence: We engage stakeholders in the design of our services and evaluate our services to ensure that our clients are achieving the best possible outcomes. We recognize that the work of all LSS staff and partners contributes to service excellence.

Key Strategic Issues

The following tables outline the primary strategic issues identified for 2010/2011 – 2012/2013, an assessment of the risks and opportunities these issues represent, and the society’s intended responses. The goals referenced in the tables below appear in the next section, “Goals, Strategies, Measures, and Targets.”

Goals, Strategies, Measures, and Targets

The goals, strategies, and performance measures outlined in this service plan are designed to engage LSS staff, our service partners, and our clients in finding timely and lasting solutions to clients' legal issues while still managing to budget.

The society's goals, continued from the 2008/2009 plan, describe our long-term commitment to legal aid renewal. The strategies to achieve these goals have been adjusted in this plan to respond to the uncertain economic environment. All adjustments are noted in the table on page 12.

Performance management system

LSS assesses its performance by surveying key stakeholder groups. LSS staff help develop the survey questions and methodology, and independent research organizations carry out the data collection and analysis to ensure data is accurate and reliable. The society also monitors and reports on key internal operational and financial data, which are tested internally.

We selected satisfaction measures to track our overall progress in achieving intended outcomes for clients. These measures also track our success in engaging the support of private lawyers, who are our primary service partners; our employees, who are critical to service quality; and the public, to whom we are ultimately accountable. Increasing levels of client and lawyer satisfaction, employee engagement, and public support will demonstrate that we are meeting these stakeholders' needs. LSS chose budget-to-actual expenditure variance as a measure of financial performance.

LSS benchmarks its performance against like organizations, where possible. By using the Common Measurement Tool, an independent client satisfaction benchmarking tool and data service provided by the Institute of Customer-Centre Service, we are able to compare client satisfaction results against government agencies providing similar services. We benchmark our employee engagement score against the BC Public Service using statistics provided by BC Stats, the organization that conducts our Work Environment Survey and administers the same survey to all BC Public Service Employees annually. Though legal aid plans across Canada have not yet developed a common method of measuring performance, we regularly share performance and outcome information. Our lawyer satisfaction results, for example, are benchmarked against roughly comparable results from legal aid plans in Alberta and Ontario.

We set targets by considering benchmark data, calculating what would be a statistically significant change in a particular measure, and evaluating the level of improvement possible given the strategies in place and activities planned in the coming period. Meeting our targets would demonstrate continuous improvement in stakeholder satisfaction with, support for, and use of our services, as well as financial responsibility, all of which are necessary to achieve our goals.

Use

People with low incomes who have legal issues use LSS services.

Strategies

- 1.1 Sustain public and intermediaries' awareness of the availability of legal aid services through promotion and outreach.
- 1.2 Monitor the impact of the transition to an agency delivery model on client access.
- 1.3 Pilot services for Aboriginal clients and adapt current LSS services to meet their needs.

Performance measures	Actual	Forecast	2010/2011	Targets
	2008/2009	2009/2010		2011/2012	2012/2013
a. Percent of clients satisfied with the accessibility of LSS services (tri-annual survey)	(2007/2008: Baseline 66% set)	N/A	70%	N/A	N/A
b. Percent of clients satisfied with the helpfulness of LSS services (tri-annual survey)	(2007/2008: Baseline 65% set)	N/A	69%	N/A	N/A
c. Percent of clients satisfied overall with LSS services (tri-annual survey)	(2007/2008: Baseline 64% set)	N/A	68%	N/A	N/A

Importance of these measures:

Client satisfaction overall and with the accessibility and helpfulness of LSS services shows that we are providing clients with the services they need when and where they need them, fulfilling our mandate to help people solve their legal problems and to facilitate access to justice.

Goal 2

Participate

People with low incomes participate in solving and preventing legal problems.

Strategies

2.1 Provide clients with information about legal aid services, related legal issues, and their rights early in the process.

2.2 Support local agents, lawyers, and intermediaries to engage clients in solving their legal issues.

2.3 Enhance opportunities for community engagement to support clients' participation in solving their legal issues.

Performance measures	Actual	Forecast	Targets
	2008/2009	2009/2010	2010/2011	2011/2012	2012/2013
a. Percent of clients satisfied with LSS support to help them participate in resolving their legal issues (tri-annual survey)	N/A	N/A	N/A	Baseline set	N/A
b. Percent of lawyers satisfied with LSS support to increase their ability to engage clients in solving their legal issues (tri-annual survey)	N/A	Baseline set	N/A	N/A	tbd

Importance of these measures:

Clients who participate in finding solutions to their legal problems are more likely to achieve positive, lasting outcomes. Measures a and b assess the effectiveness of the support provided by LSS to clients and lawyers to help clients participate.

Goal 3

Integrate

People with low incomes get help with related legal issues so they can solve and prevent legal problems.

Strategies

3.1 Coordinate/collaborate with other service providers to increase clients' access to services for their related legal issues.

3.2 Support LSS staff, local agents, lawyers, and intermediaries to assess and refer clients to services for their related legal issues.

3.3 Modify LSS services to better address clients' related legal issues.

Performance measures	Actual	Forecast	2010/2011	Targets
	2008/2009	2009/2010		2011/2012	2012/2013
a. Percent of clients who say LSS informed them about services to address their related legal issues (tri-annual survey)	N/A	N/A	Baseline set	N/A	N/A
b. Percent of lawyers satisfied with LSS support for increasing their ability to help clients address related legal issues (tri-annual survey)	N/A	Baseline set	N/A	N/A	tbd
c. Percent of lawyers who support the integrated approach to providing legal aid services (tri-annual survey)	N/A	Baseline set	N/A	N/A	tbd

Importance of these measures:

Clients who get help for their related issues are more likely to achieve positive, lasting solutions to their legal issues. Measure a tracks the effectiveness of LSS efforts to provide clients with information about services for related legal issues. Integrating services requires all service partners to have the necessary skills and resources. Measures b and c assess our progress on supplying lawyers with the tools and information to support this approach.

Goal 4

Manage

LSS manages resources soundly.

Strategies

- 4.1 Implement an employee engagement action plan that recognizes the impacts of the transition to a new delivery model and responds to the 2008 work environment survey.
- 4.2 Enhance LSS responsiveness to changes in demand for services.
- 4.3 Introduce a simplified LSS tariff to increase cost certainty, reduce administrative expenses for LSS and tariff lawyers, and free up resources for direct client services.
- 4.4 Shift to an agency delivery model to reduce infrastructure costs.
- 4.5 Review and implement changes to large case management to streamline administration and facilitate forecasting of case costs.
- 4.6 Sustain public and political support for legal aid services.

Performance measures	Actual	Forecast	Targets
	2008/2009	2009/2010	2010/2011	2011/2012	2012/2013
a. Overall employee engagement score (tri-annual survey)	(2007/2008: 70)	N/A	73	N/A	N/A
b. Percent of lawyers satisfied with the overall support provided by LSS (tri-annual survey)	(2006/2007: 75%)	84%	N/A	N/A	tbd
c. Number of new lawyers taking more than five referrals/year (annual measure)	67	>64	tbd	tbd	tbd
d. Budget-to-actual expenditure variance (annual measure)*	-0.17%	<1.5%	<1.5%	<1.5%	<1.5%
e. Percent of the public that supports the provision of legal aid services (annual survey)	94%	>90%	>90%	>90%	>90%

Importance of these measures:

High employee engagement in the public sector, tracked by measure a, is linked to improved service for clients. Measures b and c qualitatively and quantitatively assess our progress on building a sustainable supply of lawyers to provide services to clients across BC. Maintaining a low budget-to-actual expenditure variance, measure d, shows that we are effectively managing expenditures. Sustained public support for legal aid, measure e, should enhance government confidence in our services.

*The budget-to-actual expenditure variance is calculated at year-end using the following formula:

Variance = actual expenditures/budgeted expenditures. Specific expenditures that are funded separately as they occur are excluded from this calculation.

Shareholder’s Letter of Expectations

LSS and the Ministry of Attorney General jointly approve a shareholder’s letter of expectations (SLE) from the ministry to the society each year.

The government uses SLEs to communicate its priorities, mandate direction, and key performance objectives to each Crown agency for the coming year. For LSS, the shareholder’s letter supplements the three-year Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between LSS and the ministry, which sets out the roles and responsibilities of both parties as well as the anticipated funding LSS will receive from the ministry and the priorities for allocating that funding. The SLE also supplements the LSS Act, which establishes the overall mandate and administrative framework for the society.

Our actions to address the direction set out in the SLE for 2010/2011 are outlined in the table below.

Note 1: Actual results from 2008/09 were summarized from Audited Financial Statements prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles for not-for-profit organizations. All other information was prepared in a consistent fashion.

Note 2: On December 15, 2006, the Board of Directors restricted $11.0 million for board-directed strategic issues. On December 18, 2008, the board amended the restriction to permit expenditures on transition costs, operations, and possible future innovative projects.

* Government of BC funding for LSS expenditures for the years 2010/11 through 2012/13 is not yet confirmed.

† The LSS Act authorizes the society to incur expenditures and liabilities in a given fiscal year of up to, but not exceeding, its total revenue for the year and accumulated surplus from previous years. For 2009/10, LSS has an authorized operating deficit of $4.5 million.

Key assumptions

- The Ministry of Attorney General and the Treasury Board will not permit any operating deficit for LSS in future years. This prevents LSS from using accumulated surplus for services.
- No material changes in the number of cases prosecuted by the province and no material changes in the Provincial Court hours of service.
- No material changes to the Memorandum of Understanding.
- No material changes in the demand for legal aid or in the poverty rate in BC.
- No provision has been made for cost increases as a result of the changes to the Criminal Code by the Government of Canada.
- Cost estimates for the new service delivery model are based on current and historic application volumes.

Forecast: risks and sensitivities

- Unanticipated increases in the volume or average cost of cases, including increases from federal Criminal Code changes.
- Ministry of Attorney General funding to LSS for 2010/2011 for exceptional cases will be $2.7 million. Significant changes in policy, process, and review of future and current commitments on large cases would be required to manage costs down to $2.7 million.
- Changes in interest rates and economic conditions affecting non-governmental revenue sources.
- Inflationary pressures.
- Demand management may not be able to successfully contain costs, including exceptional case costs. Anticipated costs for exceptional cases are $4.7 million for 2011/2012.
- 2011/12 and 2012/2013 forecasts do not represent accurate forecasts of revenue and expenditures, as they are largely extrapolated from the 2010/11 budget. The cost and scope of services is expected to change over a three-year period.
